of WABASH HIGH SCHOOL

MEMORABILIA
1872 1934

Preface

Publication of an Alumni Directory listing the graduates of Wabash High School was undertaken for two purposes. In the first place, it was believed that a compilation of the graduates, their present addresses and occupations would prove a source of interest and would bring back many happy memories of days gone by. In the second place, the committee desired to assist in the project of lighting the Wabash High School Field for night football. The proceeds from the sale of your book have been generous and have been sufficient to pay for the publication of the book and also to turn over to the Wabash High School Athletic Association a substantial sum toward the payment of the lights. To-day, "Alumni Field" re-named in honor of our graduates, is one of the best fields in the state, adequately illuminated for night games.

Wabash High School was the twentieth of more than eight hundred public high schools to be established in the State of Indiana. More than 2,300 students have been graduated since the first class received diplomas in 1872. These graduates are now living in 41 of the 48 states in the Union, in the District of Columbia, Canada, Mexico, The Philippines, Hawaii and in Africa. Two hundred and nine have died and the whereabouts of 24 is unknown.

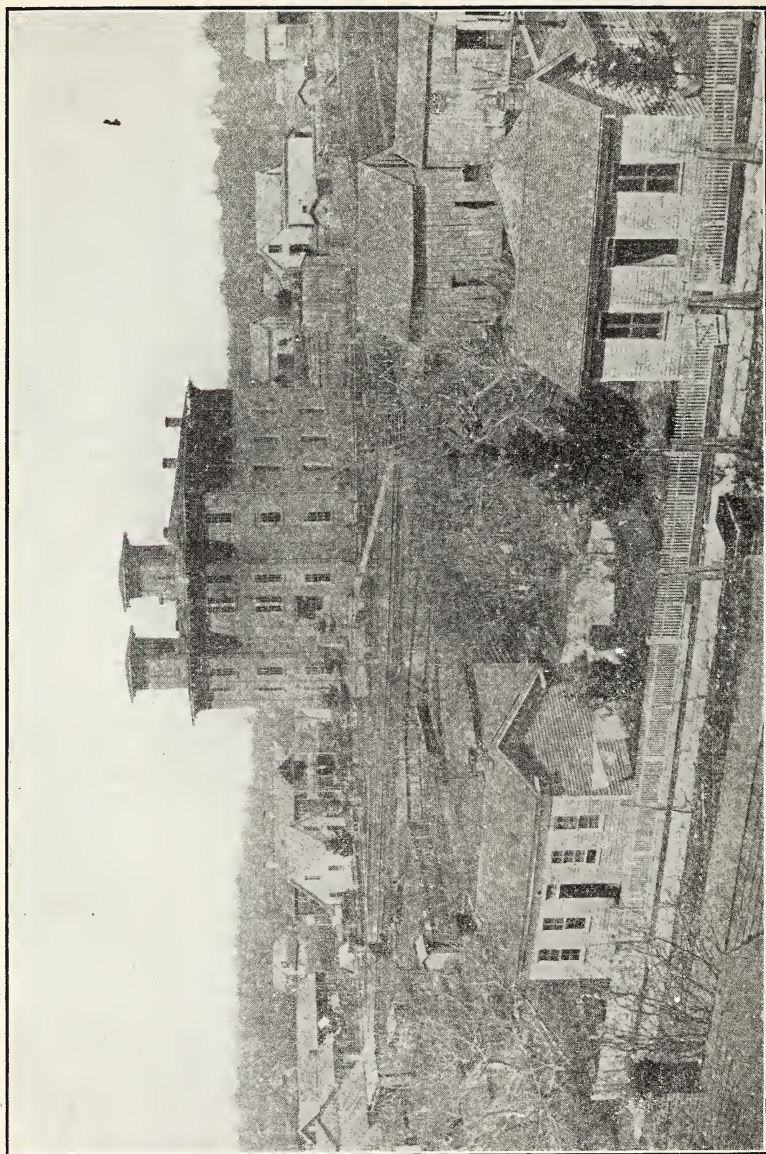

The directory lists the name first as the pupil was known in high school. Then, in parenthesis, is given the married name of women or the legal name in the case of men whose name has been changed by law. The occupation and any honors received by the individual are then listed where the information was available. All of the labor on the enterprise has been voluntary and without any pay to the individual. There are doubtless errors and mistakes in the record. For these, we can only say that we are sorry. However, we believe that the information in most cases is correct for records have been checked and re-checked through many long hours of work.

To the many people who have assisted in securing the information for the directory, we desire to express our sincere appreciation.
